Introducing Thought Leadership with Dr. Julie Williamson

About the speaker

As a keynote speaker, Dr. Julie Williamson focuses on energetic and engaged presentations, creating space for audiences to participate and share their own ideas and inspirations, and seamlessly building on what they contribute.

Julie is the Chief Growth Enabler and a Partner at Karrikins Group®, as well as an experienced keynote speaker and published author. A leading voice in how alignment can transform leaders and organizations, Julie has worked around the world with some of the largest companies, helping them set and execute on strategy and transformation.

Julie is interested in how executive engagement happens and how leadership teams form and un-form. Her deep understanding of behavioral science combined with her executive experience and business acumen allows her to push past the barriers that hold back teams from finding alignment, transforming organizations, and accelerating growth.

Julie's topics include:

Strategy as an Accelerator

Making HOW Matter with Karrikins Group

Most leaders know what needs to be done and why, but they struggle to align their teams around HOW to deliver on their most ambitious goals.

At Karrikins Group, our experts combine business acumen, executive experience, and social science with the disciplines of facilitation, coaching, and consulting to create alignment and accelerate growth for leaders and their teams.

Julie's careful curation of content for all of the ways Karrikins Group engages with clients means that they deliver consistent and effective experiences across industries and geographies. Julie leverages this work into the insights she provides from the platform, with case studies and stories based on real-world experiences with growing companies.

“I'm passionate about Making HOW Matter for leaders and teams so that they can do amazing, transformational things together.”
